God is good. 2007 was an exciting year for my family and I to relocate to Washington. We were blessed to be able to meet with Pastor Kirby Hughes of Kent First Church and share the vision we had to start another Samoan ministry in Kent. We have started with a Sunday School and small group meetings.

The population of Islanders in Washington State is approximately 20 to 22 thousand people. Half of that figure are Samoan people. Some are unchurched families and some of them go from church to church. My vision is for a Nazarene Samoan ministry to launch and recruit these souls for Jesus. God is faithful to us. My hope is to lead someone into the light of Jesus to be their personal Savior. So, brothers and sisters in Christ, please pray for me and my family in this new assignment.
