Sequim Valley Nazarene
Organized 1982

As I submit my third report as pastor of the Sequim Valley Church of the Nazarene, I do so with a sense of humility and thanksgiving. Looking back over the past year again leaves me with a dissatisfaction at not being able to accomplish more. But we are making progress, not because of anything that I have done, but only because of our Lord's leadership.

I am happy to announce that we did receive 4 new members into our fellowship, all by profession of faith. We realized at least a 30% increase in our Sunday School, and our giving to others continues to be at the top for the district. I am blessed with a congregation of committed and joyful givers, which makes this pastor's job that much easier.

My greatest challenge, of course, is continuing to work as a bi-vocational pastor, but the Lord has chosen not to relieve me of that burden yet. I am confident that the Lord will bless our church again this year as we seek His face and His perfect will for us as His people.

I am blessed with a strong group of dedicated workers, for which I am extremely thankful, and to them goes much of the credit for what has been accomplished. But the glory belongs to our precious Lord and Savior.
